Biographical / Historical

Harriet Anne Zuckerman, PhD was born in New York City. She was the daughter of Harry Zuckerman, MD, a diplomat of the American Board of Pediatrics, professor of pediatrics at the French and Polyclinic Medical School and Health Center, and Director of the Medical Arts Hospital. Her mother Anne Weiner Zuckerman was a registered nurse.

Biographical / Historical

She began her academic career at Barnard College, New York City as a Lecturer in Sociology, (1964-65). From 1965 to 1972, she was an Assistant Professor at Columbia University and Project Director at Bureau of Applied Social Research. Dr. Zuckerman was an Associate Professor from 1972 to 1978. Beginning in 1978, she became a full Professor of Sociology. She also chaired the Sociology department in the period 1978-1982. In 1991, Professor Zuckerman joined the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, of which she is the Senior Vice President. Zuckerman's research has focused on the social organization of science and scholarship. She is the author of the 1977 book, Scientific Elite: Nobel Laureates in the United States. This book, in addition to being a study of the scientific elite, constitutes a fascinating introduction to the phenomenon of multiple discoveries, particularly in science and technology. Its findings, particularly in relation to "accumulation of advantage", are relevant to the question of eminence, exceptional achievement, and greatness. Zuckerman was married to the late sociologist of science, Robert K. Merton. Merton credited Zuckerman with discovering the Matilda effect a bias against acknowledging the achievements of those women scientists whose work is attributed to their male colleagues. Zuckerman is also the co-author of the Matthew effect. The Matthew effect, which takes its name from the Parable of the talents or minas in the biblical Gospel of Matthew, can be observed in many aspects of life and fields of activity. It is sometimes summarized by the adage "the rich get richer and the poor get poorer." The concept is applicable to matters of fame or status, but may also be applied literally to cumulative advantage of economic capital.

Biographical / Historical

In addition to her groundbreaking research on scientific elites, Dr. Zuckerman has also written collaboratively with Yehuda Elkana and Joshua Lederberg in the volume, Toward a Metric of Science: The Advent of Science Indicators (Wiley, 1978); (Editor with Roberta B. Miller, and contributor) Science Indicators: Implications for Research and Policy (Social Science Research Council, 1980); (Editor with Jonathan R. Cole and John T. Bruer) The Outer Circle: Women in the Scientific Community (Norton, 1991).

Series IV. Research, 1957-2007

Scope and Contents

Series IV. Research, 1957-2007: Series IV is arranged in rough chronological order. The series begins with Dr. Zuckerman's first research project her dissertation, Nobel Laureates in the United States: A Sociological Study of Scientific Collaboration (1964). The dissertation research files include applications for graduate fellowships, dissertation defense files, revision files with Professor Zuckerman's thoughts about revision and interview code books for her conversations with Nobel laureates. In addition, this series contains files related to the collaborative research investigations undertaken with her professional colleagues Jonathan R. Cole and Robert K. Merton.

Series V. Writings, 1887-2005

Scope and Contents

Series V. Writings, 1887-2005: This series is delineated into six subseries arranged chronologically by publication date. These subseries are: V.1 Books, 1901-2005; V.2 Books--Edited Volumes and Chapters, 1930-1989; V.3 Articles, 1887-1994; V.4 Book Reviews and Press Mentions, 1950-1988; V.5 Refereeing: Articles, Books and Research, 1951-1987; and V.6 Invitations to Publish, 1964-1978.

Subseries V.1 Books, 1901-2005

Scope and Contents

Subseries V.1 Books, 1901-2005 begins with Dr. Zuckerman's volume Scientific Elite: Nobel Laureates in the United States (1977), which builds upon her PhD work and includes research and collected data files concerning noble laureates. Other files document the publishing process and contain drafts of Dr. Zuckerman's later volumes such as Toward a Metric of Science: The Advent of Science Indicators (1978); Science Indicators: Implications for Research and Policy (1980) and The Outer Circle: Women in the Scientific Community (Norton, 1991).

Subseries V.3 Articles, 1887-1994

Scope and Contents

Subseries V.3 Articles, 1887-1994: Arranged by roughly by publication date, this series contains correspondence and drafts of connected to Dr. Zuckerman's article projects. Please note that many of Professor Zuckerman's articles had their genesis in professional conference lectures and presentations. Therefore, additional articles can be found in Series I.1 Professional Correspondence--General, 1967-2011 and III.2 Professional Career--Affiliations, 1954-2014. This decision was made in order to maintain as much as possible the original order of the archival materials.
