Biography of Ian and Betty Ballantine

---

Ian (1916-1995) and Betty Ballantine (1919-2019) were book publishers who contributed to the growth of paperback book sales in the United States. The Ballantines began working for Penguin Books in 1939, opening up an American branch of the United Kingdom-based company. During World War II, paperback books became more popular after their distribution to soldiers in Europe. In 1945, the Ballantines helped found Bantam Books with Walter Pitkin and Sidney Kramer, and Ian became its first president. Bantam mostly sold paperback reprints of books previously published in hardcover. In the late 1940s and early 1950s, Ian also taught courses on the business of book publishing in the Sociology department of Columbia University's School of General Studies. In 1952, amidst tension between Ian Ballantine and other managers and an inquiry into his leadership, Ian and Betty Ballantine left Bantam to found Ballantine Books. Ballantine was an innovative press that published paperback originals, specializing in science fiction, fantasy, westerns, and mystery novels. In 1973, Random House purchased Ballantine Books, and Ian and Betty Ballantine became freelance consulting editors and publishers.

Scope and Contents

The Ian and Betty Ballantine Books and Business Records document the Ballantines' work in publishing from the 1940s through the 1980s. The collection includes five boxes of administrative documents from Penguin Books USA, Bantam Books, Ballantine Books and Peacock Books. Administrative documents cover the management of these presses as well as the editorial, sales, inventorying, and advertising processes. In addition, it includes 59 boxes which contain the editorial libraries of Penguin Books USA, Bantam Books, and Ballantine Books. These libraries are made up of nearly complete print runs of Penguin Books, Pelican Books, Bantam Books, and Ballantine Books, dating from 1935-1990.

Conditions Governing Access

This collection is located off-site. You will need to request this material at least three business days in advance to use the collection in the Rare Book and Manuscript Library reading room.

Conditions Governing Use

Reproductions may be made for research purposes. The RBML maintains ownership of the physical material only. Copyright remains with the creator and his/her heirs. The responsibility to secure copyright permission rests with the patron.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Gift of Betty Ballantine, 2011.

Processing Information

This collection was processed by Celeste Brewer and Rachel Klepper. Finding aid written by Celeste Brewer and Rachel Klepper in November 2018.

Processing Information

The business records were kept in the order that they were received. Materials that were in binders were removed and foldered, and original titles were retained. Two folders that did not fit in record cartons were moved to Box 6, a manuscript box. Folder 1 was originally in box 1 and folder 2 was originally in Box 4. Brittle pages were photocopied. Books were retained in the physical order that they were received. 22 books were discarded due to mold damage. A list of these discarded books is available upon request.

Accruals

Collection Inventory

Series I: Business Records, 1940-1994

Scope and Contents

Series I contains Ian and Betty Ballantine's business records from their work in publishing at four different presses: Penguin Books, Bantam Books, Ballantine Books, and Peacock Books. However, the bulk of the records are from Bantam and Ballantine. They cover a range of functions including order lists and inventories, book reports, financial documents, and meeting minutes. The series also includes Ian Ballantine's files from when he taught a sociology course about the book business at Columbia in the late 1940s and early 1950s.

Subseries I.1: Bantam Books, 1940-1952

Scope and Contents

Subseries I.1 contains files related to Bantam Books or that were created during the time that the Ballantines were employed there, from 1945-1952. Most of the records are from Ian Ballantine, including his correspondence and memos as well as his diaries. There are reports on books that the press was deciding whether to publish and information about inventory, orders, and finances. The subseries also contains executive committee meeting minutes and other documentation from 1952 when Ian Ballantine was leaving his position as president under investigation into his management style by the committee.
