Biographical sketch

A publisher who was the founder of the Petropolis publishing firm in Berlin in the 1920s, and also of other publishing houses.

^ Return to Table of Contents

Scope and Content

Papers include Kagan's correspondence, photographs, printed materials and audio tapes. All letters in the collection date from 1938-39, when he had moved his Petropolis operations to Brussels; there are items by Vladislav Khodasevich, Vladimir Nabokov, and Mikhail Osorgin, and others. Among the photographs are pictures of Ivan Bunin, Konstantin Fedin, and Evgeniï Zamiatin. Printed materials consist chiefly of books published by his firms; some of the books are inscribed, for example by Nikolai Berdiaev and Lev Karsavin. Included is a lengthy taped interview of Kagan by Marc Raeff in which Kagan discusses his life and publishing activities.
