Biographical sketch

The Russkii Natsional'nyi Komitet (RNK, i.e. Russian National Committee) was a Paris-based emigre political organization. Anton Vladimirovich Kartashev and Mikhail Mikhailovich Fedorov were leading figures in the organization, and much of the collection relates to their activities.

^ Return to Table of Contents

Scope and Content

The collection contains RNK correspondence, documents, photographs, subject files, organizational records and printed materials. There are letters from Boris Bakhmeteff, Pavel and Petr Dolgorukov, Zinaida Gippius, Aleksandr Kutepov, Dmitrii Merezhovskii, Bernard Pares, Ariadna Tyrkova-Williams, George Vernadsky, and Petr Vrangeli. There is a short essay by Aleksandra Tolstaia about her father. The manuscripts relate to political, historical and sociological issues. Most of the subject files relate to emigre organizations other than the RNK, while those of the RNK are classified into files of financial records, bulletins, minutes and lists of names and addresses. Among the printed materials are brochures and pamphlets, clippings, newspapers, and books.
