Biographical / Historical

Charles Payson Gurley Scott, 1853-1936 was a professor of Anglo-Saxon at Columbia University between the years 1879-1888. His collection of etymological terms was meant to be used in a dictionary of American English etymology that was never actually compiled.

^ Return to Table of Contents

Summary

Etymological card files of Scott, containing approximately 120,000 manuscript slips which were possibly meant to be used for a projected dictionary of American English etymology.
