History

Gerald Freund was born in Berlin in 1931. His family then immigrated to Britain, then to New York, during World War II. He graduated from Haverford College and Oxford in 1952 and 1955, respectively. Freund became an active member of both the academic and philanthropic communities. He taught at Haverford College, and was also the dean of humanities and arts at Hunter College.

^ Return to Table of Contents

History

He served as the president of Private Funding Associates and was the first director of the MacArthur Foundation's Prize Fellows Program. He also worked for the Rockefeller Foundation, the Whiting Foundation, the Ford Foundation, and helped set up the Rona Jaffe Awards and Lillian Gish Prize. In addition to his philanthropic work, Freund has written two books about Russian and German relations, Unholy Alliance, and Germany Between Two Worlds, in addition to Philanthropy and Narcissism, which explores the past aspects and future prospects of philanthropy in America.

^ Return to Table of Contents

History

Freund died of lung cancer in 1997. He was 66.

^ Return to Table of Contents
