Historical Note

The position of University Photographer in the Office of Public Information was created in 1947. Manny Warman worked as a freelance photographer before filling this position, which he held until 1983. Prior to this position, photographers at the University were employed either as work-for-hire or staff, but were not officers of the administration. For this reason, employment records were not retained for these photographers. Freelance photographers may have been used by the University Photographer, but not credited.

Biographical / Historical

The University Photographer photographed material primarily for use by the Office of Public Information (now the Office of Public Affairs), but also worked for other departments and individuals. During Manny Warman's tenure the bulk of his photographs were published in the periodical Columbia Alumni News. Many of these particular images can be found in this collection. Alumni News was published by the Alumni Council of Columbia University, 1909-1957.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Source of acquisition--The Office of Public Affairs Photograph Collection is comprised of several different accessions.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Source of acquisition--The first (accession 2000-006) was transferred from the University Photographer and dated circa 1947-1983. The negatives and slides resided in two metal filing cabinets. The original subject divisions provided by Manny Warman, University Photographer, 1947-1983, were retained. The negatives were left in their original paper sleeves, but ultimately re-boxed into archival negative boxes.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Source of acquisition--The second accession (2003-034) included photographs taken by Joe Pineiro, University Photographer, 1983-1998 and those taken by freelance photographer Eileen Barroso, 1985-1998. The negatives for these images were transferred in their negative cabinets, arranged in alphabetical order. These were also kept in their original storage sleeves but re-boxed into archival negative boxes. Accessions 2000-006 and 2003-34 now comprise Series II of this collection.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Source of acquisition--Color slides (now found in Series III of this collection) were received in accession 2002-035. These were removed from their original binders, filed, and re-boxed. Color slides found in accession 2001-052 were added to these boxes.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Source of acquisition--A separate accession (2001-052) of photographs depicting 1968 student protests on campus is housed in binders for ease of access. Related protest negatives from earlier accession 2000-006 were added to binders. These were received on December 28, 2001 from Roger Hackett in the Office of Public Affairs (OPA), who had received them from Suzanne Trimmel who also worked in that office. This accession now comprises Series IV of this collection.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Source of acquisition--Negatives and slides from the accession 2003-046 were used by the Columbia University Record, a publication of the Office of Public Affairs. Most negatives were taken by photographer Amy Callahan and date from 1997-1998. For purposes of storage, corresponding contact sheets were separated from negatives and housed within the Historical Photograph Collection (UA#0003). All negatives are 35mm format and were re-boxed. These negatives can now be found in Series II of this collection.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Source of acquisition--The bulk of photographs from accession 2004-038 (now found in Series I of this collection) consist of black and white 8 x 10 prints and date approximately 1980-2000, with earlier images used by Columbia University Record office during this time. 35mm slides, negatives, and 8 x10 contact sheets are also found in this accession. Identified photographers include Joe Pineiro, Eileen Barroso and Amy Callahan. Some prints were collected and published by the office from non-Columbia University photographers.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Source of acquisition--The most recent accession (2011.2012.M024) comprise negatives, prints, contact sheets and digital files on compact discs of images taken by University Photographer Eileen Barroso (1998-present) and primarily covers the years 1999-2006. This accession (now found in Series V of this collection) also included some older prints and negatives that were taken by her predecessor Joe Pineiro.

Series II: Negatives

Scope and Contents

Negatives found in this series are a mix of original and copy negatives of 35mm and larger formats. They are almost exclusively black and white and all originate from the University Photographer's office. The negatives in this series consist of portraits, campus events, and athletic contests taken primarily between 1947 and 1998. Subject designations created by the University Photographer were maintained as individual sub-series in this collection. This series is particularly useful for finding images of people from and events held in the 1970s and 1980s. Negatives are still stored in the original envelopes and sleeves, though were re-boxed into archival negative boxes.

Subseries II.1. Portraits, 1950s-1980

Scope and Contents

Negatives of individuals with Columbia connections.

Series III: Color Slides

Scope and Contents

Color slides most likely originating from the University Photographer depicting various university events, athletics, student life and views of campus and campus buildings. Among the events represented are the inaugurations of President William J. McGill (1970) and Michael I. Sovern (1980) as well as commencement ceremonies. Among the commencement 1967 slides one can find images of campus buildings and landscaping in the full bloom and some images of architectural models for the development of East Campus. Note that there are two sets of 1969 commencement slides. Slides are listed alphabetically by subject and/or name and are arranged in two slide boxes which each contain six smaller boxes. These are indicated as 1.1, 1.2, 1.3, etc. in the container list.

Series IV: Protest and Activism Photographs

Scope and Contents

These photographs consist of black-and-white photographic prints, negatives, and contact sheets depicting student protest activities at Columbia from April 21, 1967 to April 21, 1969, with the overwhelming majority of items dating from April and May, 1968 - the period of the most sustained and significant student protests at Columbia.

Scope and Contents

The images depict protest activities around the campus, scenes of the occupation in a number of Columbia buildings, and the aftermath of these occupations, as well as many of the Columbia individuals who were prominently involved in the student protests. These individuals include SDS student leader Mark Rudd, Columbia President Grayson Kirk, Vice President David Truman, Columbia College Dean Henry Coleman, and Assistant Dean Michael Platt. Faculty members who figured prominently in events, such as Michael Sovem (Co-chair of the Executive Committee of the Joint Faculties of Columbia and later President of Columbia), Alan Westin (also Co-chair of the Executive Committee and a member of the Ad Hoc Faculty Group Steering Committee), and Immanuel Wallerstein (Ad Hoc Faculty Group Steering Committee), as well as Archibald Cox and other members of the Cox Commission, which was formed in early May, 1968 to investigate the causes of the protests, are also featured in these images.

Scope and Contents

Prints, negatives, and contact sheets are arranged chronologically and housed together in two archival photo binders. Two sets of negatives are 120 mm format, while the rest of the items in the collection are 35 mm format. Duplicate copies of some prints and numerous duplicates of some contact sheets have been retained, but they are foldered and housed separately in one manuscript box.

Scope and Contents

Apart from the 1967 and 1969 rolls, the prints and contact sheets were originally housed in 15 large manila envelopes, which were dated on the outside, while the negatives were housed in 65 protective sleeves, which were labeled "Protest" and also bore dates, along with A, B, C, ...markings in some instances (e.g. "4/48/68-A "); these additional notations are on the inventory listing, when applicable.

Scope and Contents

A few of the negative sleeves also had brief descriptive hand-written notes about the subjects of the photos. In addition, many of the negatives and contact sheets had themselves been dated, presumably by their photographer. These dates and notes have been used to date the items and to organize and describe the collection. They have been compared with dates in the select chronologies of events depicted.

Scope and Contents

The University Photographer for the Office of Public Affairs during these years was Manny Warman, but the negatives cannot be definitively attributed to him. Some negative sleeves had names noted on them, along with dates and other information, and these may be the names of photographers; this information is noted as follows:

Scope and Contents

Negatives, prints, contact sheets and digital files stored on compact discs dating between 1999 and 2016. This series also includes some older prints and negatives taken by University Photographer Joe Pinero in the 1970s-1990s. Image files are arranged in the order they were packed by Eileen Barroso for transfer to the University Archives and all materials have been maintained in their original folders, envelopes and sleeves. The files are roughly in alphabetical and reverse chronological order, though there are some folders not in true alphabetical or chronological order.

Scope and Contents

Images depict various university events, lectures, panels, orientation activities, campus and building images, sporting events, special occasions, events organized by various schools and departments (e.g., General Studies, Columbia College, Journalism, Business School) and many faculty and staff portraits. Among the events that are repeatedly depicted are Commencement, John Jay Awards, Great Teacher Awards, Bancroft Prizes, and Pulitzer Prizes. There are also many 250th events from 2003 and 2004 documented in these files.

Scope and Contents

Several acronyms are used on many of the folder titles. Ones that come up repeatedly are:

Scope and Contents

CAVA = Columbia Area Volunteer Ambulance

Scope and Contents

CC = Columbia College
